Rise to every business challenge

Business leaders want to profit by being the best at their trade, and by providing value to their customers, fulfillment for their employees, and security for their families and communities. We help mid-sized businesses, inspired entrepreneurs, and nonprofits predict and mitigate legal and business risks, structure smart key agreements, manage and defend tax and regulatory exams, convert disputes and challenges into new opportunities, and close major deals. We work with employers to prevent and defend against workplace claims. We also close loans on terms that leave both banks and borrowers happy with their transactions.

Rise to every real estate challenge

Developers, property owners, and investors turn to Lerch Early when they need to buy, sell, lease or develop commercial real estate, closing with the best mix of price, terms, and timelines essential to their real estate and business strategies. As the region's largest land use and zoning practice, we help obtain approvals by using strategic thinking and creating key stakeholder consensus. Our community associations attorneys provide practical counsel to board members and managers of common ownership communities on governing and managing effective and thoughtful associations.
